The Attorney General of California has prepared the following title and summary of the chief purpose and points of the proposed measure:

INDUSTRIAL USE OF HEMP (MARIJUANA). INITIATIVE STATUTE. Legalizes the growing, harvesting, storage and use of hemp for industrial purposes such as the production of building materials, cloth, industrial chemicals and paper. Defines industrial hemp as all varieties of the plant genus cannabis (marijuana), whether growing or not, containing less than one percent tetrahydrocannabinol (THC). Allows law enforcement officers to enter fields, without probable cause, to take samples for testing. Requires growers to register annually with the State Department of Food and Agriculture. States that new law may not be construed to interfere with enforcement of laws governing controlled substances. Summary of estimate by Legislative Analyst and Director of Finance of fiscal impact on state and local government: If allowed under federal law, the measure's legalization of hemp cultivation would probably result in minor costs to state and local government to administer and enforce its provisions.

RE: AMENDMENTS TO PROPOSED STATUTORY INITIATIVE
Your File No. SA 97 RF 0041

Mr. Attorney General:

Enclosed is a final set of amendments proposed for the statutory initiative measure entitled THE INDUSTRIAL HEMP ACT OF 1998. The original version of this Act was filed on October 7, 1997. A substantially amended version was filed on October 22, 1997.

When the amended version was accepted on October 22, the name of the Act was changed from "The Industrial Use Act of 1998" to "The Industrial Hemp Act of 1998." However, the listing for the initiative on the Secretary of State's internet site uses the original title.

Two amended versions of the proposed initiative were submitted last week and rejected as substantive. The enclosed version of the initiative includes proposed amendments that are strictly grammatical. The first set of documents is a comparative analysis, broken down section by section, in three forms for each section. For each section, the analysis is in underlined, bold italics. It is followed by the section as written in the October 22, 1997, version. Then follows the section, as proposed to be amended. A complete version of the proposed, amended initiative follows the analysis.

The proponent for this initiative remains the same as the one originally filed. Thank you for your courtesy and cooperation in this matter.

Sincerely,

Sam H. Clauder II

The Attorney General of California has prepared the following title and summary of the chief purpose and points of the proposed measure:

REGULATION OF TIMBER OPERATIONS BY COUNTIES AND CITIES. LIMITS ON TIMBER HARVESTING. INITIATIVE STATUTE. This measure allows a county or city to approve or disapprove any timber harvesting plan where the majority of the land lies within its jurisdiction. Provides such entities may enact requirements for timber harvesting and for inspection and regulation of timber operations. Specifies various restrictions on timber operations that would require local disapproval of a harvesting plan. Requires the state to be divided into watershed areas for planning purposes and limits timber harvesting to 25 percent of each area in any 10-year period.

Summary of estimate by Legislative Analyst and Director of Finance of fiscal impact on state and local governments: State and local governments would incur an unknown reduction in revenues, potentially a few million to tens of millions of dollars annually, to the extent that timber harvesting is reduced. Over the long term, the impact on state and local revenues due to changes in economic activities is unknown. The state would incur one-time costs of between $100,000 and $150,000 to remap the state into smaller planning watershed areas.

We would like to propose the following title and summary:

TITLE: LOCAL CONTROL OF TIMBER HARVESTING

SUMMARY: This measure provides counties with the option to act as a reviewing and approving agency for all timber harvesting plans where the greater portions of the land subject to those plans lies within the jurisdiction of the county. County governments may take jurisdiction by adopting a resolution which meets specific criteria outlined in this measure. Should a county opt not to adopt such a resolution, the current review process will remain in place for that county. The California Department of Forestry will retain its authority to review and approve timber harvesting plans, either as sole authority or in partnership with counties who have acted affirmatively to take jurisdiction.
